

Discord Threatens as Union Hints Strike in Price Cutting Milk War

Announcement Comes in Wake of Storekeepers' Price Cutting Tactics in New York City Independent Sales Plan.

UNION COMPLAINS

Charges Drivers of Companies are Underpaid and Not Union Men in Some Cases.

New York, Dec. 28 (AP)—A strike threat from union wagon drivers put a new note of discord into New York's milk price situation today, in the wake of price-cutting tactics of storekeepers to meet the city's independent sales plan.

But even while dissension arose against the sale of milk at nine cents a quart by four independent dealers, W. Follows Morgan, commissioner of markets, proclaimed the plan "has already been successful."

Morgan regarded the cutting of Grade B milk prices from 10 and 11 cents to nine cents to meet the competition of the independent cuts at market locations rented from the city as "an indication that a lower level for consumer purchases can be attained and could have been reached all along if the industry had been willing."

Lower prices to the consumer was the primary aim of the experiment, instituted under the supervision of Mayor F. H. La Guardia.

The union—Local 584 of the Milk Wagon Drivers Union—hit at the companies participating in the plan in their complaint that union drivers were being underpaid, that non-union men were being employed in some instances, and that health department regulations were being violated.

Health Commissioner John L. Rice was urged to investigate immediately the sale of the nine-cent milk from trucks, as it was conducted yesterday. Morgan was assailed for permitting "the continuance of this unsanitary practice."

Union spokesmen made it clear that the union "can't interfere with the price of milk—they can sell milk at a cent a quart or give it away if they want to," but that the drivers were determined that their contracts should be strictly adhered to.

The union originally had called drivers of the four companies on strike at 5 a. m. today, but then, at the request from the mayor, deferred action until after a meeting with La Guardia at city hall today.

The Rev. Dr. Leach was unanimously invited to become pastor of the Kansas church. He was called to the Asbury M. E. Church in May of 1935, from St. Paul's M. E. Church in Middletown, where he had served three years previously.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Leach plan to leave for Kansas about January 17. His new charge is located in a college town with a resident population of 10,500 and a student population of 11,000. Shot By Daughter

Fatally shot while trimming a Christmas tree was Mrs. Cordella Campbell (above), in her Warren, O. home. Her daughter, Louise, 28, is said to have fired the shot "by accident."

Louise Campbell Freed Today in Death of Mother

Warren, O., Dec. 28 (AP)—Miss Louise Campbell was ordered freed from the Trumbull county jail today after Coroner J. C. Henshaw ruled the gunshot death of her mother was accidental.

The 28-year-old girl had been in jail without charge since Saturday. Mrs. Campbell, 55, daughter-in-law of a pioneer Ohio steel master, James A. Campbell, died Sunday of internal hemorrhages induced by an abdominal wound, despite a blood transfusion from her daughter.

The verdict of the coroner's inquest said: "All the witnesses in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Cordella Campbell were thoroughly examined by Coroner J. C. Henshaw, and they all stated that the shooting was accidental."

"Also a statement was made by Mrs. Campbell before she expired that it was an accident."

The order for the release of the young woman gave her the opportunity to attend private funeral services for her mother at a Youngstown funeral home.

A close guard had been placed over the blonde, handsome girl last night after her counsel said she "wanted to die."

Her face drawn and tear-stained, Miss Campbell related at an inquest yesterday her story of a happy gathering which progressed from egg nog and tree decorating to gunfire and death. The small blonde woman is held without charge.

Prosecutor Paul J. Reagan said there was "not much variance in the testimony given by Miss Campbell and that offered by the other witnesses." Guests at the home told the prosecutor Mrs. Campbell was shot accidentally when she attempted to take a gun from her daughter.

They told him someone had stolen almost the whole waterworks.

The city council convened, sent the mayor posthaste to Houston to buy what was needed.

"Give me the works," he ordered, "the whole town's dry."

The salesman pointed to a stack of second hand machinery. "That's part of the waterworks stolen from us last night," said the mayor.

Two men were in jail today charged with felony theft, and water flowed again through Groveton's mains.

Mayor C. J. Heiselman and Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin will represent Kingston at the public hearing before the State Public Service Commission in Albany on Wednesday morning on the application of the city for additional protection at the grade crossings in Kingston.

The hearing tomorrow is a continuation of the hearing held in the city several weeks ago, at which time Mayor Heiselman suggested that a flashing light signaling device might prove of advantage in protecting the grade crossings.

Since holding the hearing in Kingston the mayor has been in communication with various railroads in the country seeking information as to how grade crossings are protected and what additional protection was given besides the crossing gates.

The data will be presented at the hearing Wednesday.

Hospital authorities expressed surprise at the sudden departure of "Smiling Joe" Thomas of Newark, who had a tip of a knife blade removed from his heart Saturday. They described him as "a model patient."

General Motors Plans To Throw 30,000 Out Of Work on January 1

Knudsen Says "Recession in Business" Demands That Force Be Readjusted—Plants to Go on 3-day Week.

MICHIGAN: 20,000

Says Corporation Regrets Circumstances, Hopes for Better Days in Spring.

Detroit, Dec. 28 (AP)—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corp., announced today that employment in General Motors plants throughout the United States would be reduced by approximately 30,000 employees effective January 1.

The reduction in Michigan, he said, will approximate 20,000 employees.

Mr. Knudsen said "the recession in business makes a readjustment of the working force necessary."

He explained that the General Motors plants would operate on a three-day-a-week basis, each operating a total of 24 hours a week. That will be the working schedule for those employees who are retained.

"The corporation has kept its men employed up to very recently by reducing the hours given per man in order to help the general economic situation in the communities where plants are located," he said.

"The inventories, both in the field and at the plants, accumulated through this policy have, however, reached a point where adjustment must take place as it is impossible to carry larger stocks than what the demand makes possible."

"Therefore, on or about January 1, the working force will be reduced in order that the people who will continue at work, even on reduced hours, will have reasonable income for all their needs. This will necessarily affect a considerable number of men in all locations, but there will still remain on General Motors payroll in the United States more than 205,000 men, and the monthly payroll will exceed $24,000,000."

"The corporation regrets the circumstances which make this necessary, but sincerely hopes the condition will be temporary and that spring will see the return of normal employment."

Knudsen said that reduction totals for General Motors plants outside of Michigan were not yet available and that local managers would compile the figures.

He said no reduction had been ordered in Canadian General Motors plants because "business is normal there."

In an interview, Mr. Knudsen said: "The used car market is stopped and when that's stopped our employment stops."

Asked if a revision of prices on the motor cars might ease the market problem, he said: "A cheaper market will do no good if we can't sell used cars. Purchasing power is down—there is no question about it."

Asked for his explanation of the general business recession, he said: "The price level rose too fast in the spring of 1937 and we just couldn't digest it."

Roosevelt to Tell Congress Budget Balance Possible

Washington, Dec. 28 (AP)—Usually well-informed officials said today President Roosevelt would tell Congress next week that the 1938-39 budget can be balanced if relief expenditures can be held within bounds.

The budget which he will send to Capitol Hill January 4 is not expected to contain a definite relief estimate. Because of uncertainty about the severity and duration of the current business recession, the President probably will give only a tentative figure.

Some members of Congress have expressed the opinion relief costs will run so high that a balance between federal income and outlay cannot be reached.

Treasury officials, however, indicated that expenditures for other items than relief and national defense would be held about a balance.

Army and navy expenditures may be slightly over the billion dollar mark, informed observers said, forming the largest peacetime defense fund in American history.

Spending Is Topic

Government spending will constitute one of the principal subjects before the session of Congress which meets next Monday. So many other controversial topics have been scheduled that legislators were beginning to appear skeptical of forecasts that the session would end in May.

One experienced member predicted Congress would meet at least until mid-June, despite the "spade work" accomplished at the recent special session.

An item which most congressmen believe will be added to the administration program is new anti-trust legislation. President Roosevelt originally placed it on the special session agenda, but offered no specific proposals.

There have been hints that his supporters might get behind something like the Borah-O'Mahoney bill to license corporations doing an interstate business.

Before Congress can debate an anti-monopoly program, it must deal with such complicated and controversy-laden subjects as farm control, anti-lynching, government reorganization, and taxation.

NEW PALTZ RESIDENTS ARE BENEFICIARIES

New Paltz, Dec. 27 (Special)—Two New Paltz residents are beneficiaries in the estate of their friend, the late Mrs. Mabel Loud Sanford of New York. It was learned here today when her estate was appraised by the New York State Transfer Tax Department. They are Alice Louise Finley, who gets $4,500 and a third the personal property, and Mary Findlay Stahl, $3,500 and another third the personal property.

Mrs. Sanford died February 29. Her estate was set at $103,522 net value by today's appraisal. The bulk of it, $98,355, was in stocks and bonds.

Two U. S. Projects Begin Operation Early in 1938

Washington, Dec. 28 (AP)—Two long-range federal projects to aid low-income groups—slum clearance and farm tenancy programs—will begin operation early in the new year.

They are the principal new government activities now scheduled for 1938, although the coming session of Congress may authorize others.

The Social Security program will be broadened. Twenty-one states and the District of Columbia, aided by federal funds, will begin January 1 to pay unemployment compensation to workers in insured industries.

A tentative start already has been made on the $250,000,000 slum clearance program, which officials hope eventually will provide better living quarters for millions of low-income city residents.

Congress provided $100,000,000 for the first year's operations of the United States Housing Authority, set up to direct the program, and appropriated $200,000,000 for the second year. The authority tentatively has allotted $156,566,000 to 32 cities.

The farm tenancy program has been in the organization stage. Officials of the Farm Security Administration, which will direct it, said they expected to start making loans early in 1938 to selected tenants who wish to buy farms.

Bucharest, Dec. 28 (AP)—King Carol tonight accepted the resignation of Premier George Tataru and commissioned Octavian Goga, anti-Semitic president of the National Christian Party, to form a new government. U. S. Ambassador Leaves for Home

Berlin, Dec. 28 (AP)—William L. Dodd, resigning United States ambassador, departed for the United States today with Mrs. Dodd—more unceremoniously than any previously departing American envoy.

The toil of the farewell was in keeping with the relations between the ambassador and the German government, especially strained since Dodd objected to American official representation at the Nazi Party Congress last September at Nurnberg.

With only the male personnel of the embassy and consulate present in the Dodd apartment to say goodbye, the couple slipped quietly into a car and drove to Hamburg to board the liner Washington sailing tomorrow.

Note to British

Tokyo, Dec. 25 (AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota tonight delivered to British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie Japan's reply to a protest against Japanese attack on the British Gunboat Ladybird.

The text of the note was not made public, but the military section of imperial headquarters issued a statement saying the attack was a "mistake" and expressing regrets. One sailor was killed in the attack.

Hirota's report on the attack, which occurred on the Yangtze river on the same day the United States Gunboat Panay was sent to the bottom by Japanese bombs, included the government's measures for amicable settlement with Great Britain.

Tokyo newspapers hailed settlement of the Panay bombing as a tribute to "the coolness and sincerity" of Japanese and United States governments and peoples. The Chugai Shogyo remarked that "men, especially those in the front line of battle, can not guarantee against making mistakes."

Nichi Nichi predicted relations between Japan and the United States would be improved by the tragedy, citing a Japanese proverb that "the earth is more solid after a rainfall."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE J. JAGGER

New York, Dec. 28 (AP)—Heavy selling swept stock market leaders overboard today, many falling 1 to 5 or more points to new lows for the year.

Steele, motors, chemicals and specialties were in the forefront of the slump.

Occasional efforts to rally the market met with little response and volume of offerings attained such proportions near the fourth hour that the market was in a state of panic.

Quotations were around the worst at the approach of the final period.

Wall Street seemed to be still worried over Assistant Attorney General Jackson's denunciation of "big business" and monopoly "profiteering" and intimations the government may swing into a wide anti-trust campaign as a means of controlling prices.

Bonds and commodities generally were down.

The Ontario & Western, now in receivership, reported a net operating deficit for November of $48,864 compared with net income of $24,330 in the 1936 month. The B. & O. estimates net deficit in 1937 at $1,352,004, compared with 1936 income of $4,538,975.

Skidding Truck Smashes Light Pole

A Ford sedan delivery, owned by Joe Ferraro, of Glasco, and being driven by John Ferraro and headed south, went into a skid just before reaching the entrance to the Atwood road in Stone Ridge about nine o'clock this morning and wound up in a doorway further down the main street, after striking and breaking off an electric light pole.

The accident was reported to the sheriff's office and Deputies Vredenburg and Brown made an investigation. They found that the truck had skidded sideways for a distance of over a hundred feet, before coming to a stop. The side of the truck was damaged where it came in contact with the pole and the driver had a sizeable bump on his forehead but was otherwise uninjured.

Lehman Studies G. O. P. Proposals for 'Pay As You Go'

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 28 (AP)—Democratic Governor Herbert H. Lehman, sponsor of the $40,000,000 "institutional construction" bond issue approved by voters November 2, scanned today Republican proposals for abolishing the issue and adoption of an immediate "pay-as-you-go" plan of public construction financing.

The proposals were among several recommendations contained in the report signed by Republican members of a joint legislative committee created by the 1937 legislature to study the state's fiscal system. Democratic members signed a separate memorandum, urging further study of the state's financial setup. They neither approved or disapproved the report.

Report on January 5. Already transmitted to the governor, busy preparing budget items and policy he will recommend to the 1938 legislature, the report will be submitted to that body on January 5.

It urged non-use of the latest bond issue for public construction "unless absolutely necessary" and declared "the policy of continuous borrowing must be halted."

Asserting the combined federal, state and local debt now represents "a mortgage of nearly $3,000 on every family in this state," the report said: "The time has come for the people of this state to clench their fists and take a small dose of unpleasant medicine, because if they do not take it now they are going to take a far worse dose in the future."

New Sled Run at Lawton Park Is Half Mile Long

The new sled run has been completed and is now in use at Lawton Park, affording fine coasting both to children and older folks. The new sled run is over half a mile in length and is a long, wide run built especially for coasting with a wide bank at the turn at the bottom. This is the first sled run ever to be built in one of the city's parks.

Lawton Park is easily reached by going out Greenliff avenue and turning into the Boulevard. Going out the Boulevard one makes the first turn into Kingsburg avenue, where is located the bottom of the sled run. In building this sled run the recreation department of the city had in mind the danger of children coasting on the public streets where traffic is heavy and coasting is highly dangerous. It is expected that this sled run will be used mostly by the children living in the vicinity of Lawton Park, but the run is open to the public.

FIND MANUSCRIPTS OF 800 YEARS AGO

Ancient Papers Glued in Back of Old Tones.

Mount Angel, Ore.—Fragments of valuable manuscripts, many dated before Gutenberg's invention of movable type, are a portion of a prized library collection at Mount Angel college here.

Rev. Dr. Mario Schmidt, librarian, estimates that some of the manuscripts are more than 800 years old. They were recovered from the backs of books which date from the fifteenth century. The books from which they were taken are of great value in themselves. Some were brought from Europe more than 40 years ago by the founders of the college and others were acquired from European monasteries and libraries, notably from Aachen, Germany.

The fragments number more than sixty. Forty of them range in size from 35 to 50 square inches and the remaining 20 are smaller, ranging from 6 to 20 square inches each. The predominant language is Latin, although five of the smaller scraps are in Hebrew.

Recognizable portions include part of a sacramental of choir books, some law, theology and philosophy. The majority of them bear hand-illuminated work in four colors—black, blue, red and green.

Specialty designed tools had to be used to remove the manuscripts from the backs of the books. Sometimes it took hours to remove only a few square inches. The pigments and inks were resistant to water and some of the glues resisted solvents.

Dr. Schmidt is now seeking a restorative which will allow the translation of those which are too faded to be read.

COFFEE AGAIN IS MAKING HEADLINES

Brazil's Changed Policy Mystifies Producers.

Washington, D. C.—Coffee, famous bean that contributes to millions of American breakfasts, is making world headlines again. Brazil, world's largest producer of coffee, has reduced her export tax on the commodity and world coffee producers are wondering how this may affect their fortunes.

"More than 3,000,000,000 coffee trees, three-fifths of all there are in the world, are busily producing coffee in Brazil's cool uplands, and 38 or more other countries and colonies are adding to the world crop, which reached 2,500,000 tons in the last crop-year, enough to make two and a half pounds for every human being on earth," says the National Geographic Society.

"Coffee is an immigrant from ancient Ethiopia that made good in the New World. On the highlands of the old African kingdom recently conquered by Italy, coffee trees have grown wild since early times. Legend says the stimulating properties of coffee were discovered by a priest who noticed that goats refused to take their ordinary rest after eating coffee berries. From Ethiopia coffee crossed the Red Sea to Arabia, then traveled to Java, and finally came as a 'vegetable immigrant' to the Americas."

"There began coffee's real success story. Like many human immigrants, coffee made good in the New World to an extent far beyond anything ever dreamed of in the 'old country.' South America became its greatest producer, and North America its greatest consumer. In the 1936-37 crop-year, Brazil alone grew approximately 69 per cent of the world's coffee production, and the United States used half of all the coffee consumed in the world."

"But the world in recent years has consumed far less coffee than it has produced, and coffee's success story has changed lately to a tale of woe. With Brazil's own production increasing, and other countries planting coffee trees to compete with her, coffee prices have dropped."

"Hoping to improve the situation, Brazil began destroying part of her crop. Long before the United States began 'plowing under' cotton and killing off pigs to boost prices, Brazil was burning surplus coffee by the ton. Since 1931 nearly 52,000,000 bags, or 3,432,000 tons have been destroyed. Some of the ash was used as fertilizer on Brazilian farms."

Leading Producers in New World. "In the crop-year of 1936-37, Brazil alone produced a million bags more of coffee than the world consumed in the same period. (The standard bag of coffee weighs 132 pounds.) World coffee production in that crop-year was 13,000,000 bags in excess of the amount consumed. Leading coffee producers next to Brazil are Colombia, Netherlands East Indies, Venezuela, Guatemala and Salvador."

Once Called Intoxicant.

"Coffee trees thrive best on land from 1,000 to 4,000 feet above sea level in the tropics. They are evergreen, and blossom two or three times a year. Coffee blossoms are pure white and fragrant, and the berries are dark red, very much like cherries. The coffee 'bean' is the seed of this berry. After the berries are harvested the pulp and other extraneous matter is removed, leaving the coffee beans of commerce."

"Strangely enough the leaves of the coffee tree contain more caffeine, the stimulating alkaloid found in coffee, than coffee beans. In some regions, for this reason, a sort of 'tea' has been made from coffee leaves, but is not an especially pleasant drink as the leaves lack the aroma that makes regular coffee so popular."

"Because of the stimulating properties of coffee, it was once considered an intoxicant among orthodox Mohammedans and therefore was a forbidden drink. But coffee nevertheless increased in popularity among the Arabian Moslems, and became as closely identified with Arabia as tea with China."

"Until the close of the Seventeenth century, practically all of the world's supply of coffee came from Yemen, in southern Arabia, and the name of Mocha, a Yemenite seaport, became a sort of synonym for coffee. Later coffee culture spread to Java, and for a time this East Indies island led in production, so that its name also became a synonym for coffee."

Model Engineers Make Progress on Hudson Valley RR

The idea of a local model railroad club which originated during the middle of August and became a reality a month later, is rapidly coming into prominence as 14 enthusiastic model builders push work on the construction of the Hudson Valley Railroad.

Getting off to rather a slow start with only five members, the Hudson Valley Model Railroad Club has steadily grown until today the organization boasts its own clubhouse and a planned miniature railroad system which will contain over 500 feet of track, and will serve numerous scale-model towns with complete terminal facilities.

Model railroading is a fascinating hobby which originated in England many years ago. It did not enjoy much success in this country until a group of model engineers assembled in New York City about 10 years ago and decided to organize a model railroad club for the purpose of building and operating a complete miniature railroad system scaled 1/8 inch to the foot and patterned as nearly as possible after the standards of the regular railroads.

Today in Kingston such a club is functioning. It meets each Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in its own clubhouse, leased from the New York Central Railroad Company, at 541 Broadway. Here much progress is being made in the construction of a model system. Scenic effects are being reproduced which will afford a picturesque setting for a railroad which follows a river valley from one town to another, and in each town served by the miniature system, yards and complete terminal facilities will be faithfully reproduced, all scaled 1/8 inch to the foot.

Anyone interested in this hobby is invited to inspect the local club's layout on any Thursday evening, and prospective members can obtain information concerning the club, at the weekly meetings.

Across the Mexico, Mo., "Intelligence" front page, last July, ran the headline:

NO NEWS TODAY

Smaller type explained: "Of Amelia, Sought By Air And By Sea."

Whether bouncing a ball on a paddle or reading "Conversation at Midnight," people thought about a girl sought by hundreds of men in the Pacific. Mysterious radio jabber kept hopes a-flutter. U. S. warships raced to the South Seas. Other nations helped.

Pan-American Clippers and British flying boats began transatlantic flights the same July, but the spotlight was on the Pacific. So there was more fuss over the Russians' North Pole Hop No. 2. This time the Reds "aced" 6,262 miles to land in Southern California.

Jean Peard soared forth from Minnesota in a bathtub, gondola hitched to a flock of baby balloons, hit Iowa treetops, and wired his wife: "Landed safely. All equipment burned up."

Another War Begins

Girls wore halo hats, and danced to "It Looks Like Rain in Cherry Blossom Lane."

And just then the Japanese and Chinese collided. Each country blamed the other. Both sent more martial-minded men into the Peiping arena to restore peace. Tokyo insisted it was a local issue and made repeated truces with local lords, but none of them stuck. Nanking insisted it was China's crucial conflict.

Thus the 17th war since the World War began. Washington took it calmly. The town was full of third-term talk... and Boy Scouts having a wonderful time... and Joe Robinson was driving the Senate into a talkathon, his thin lips twisted in a grim, sure smile.

Robinson Falls

The same July heat that made the midwest's corn grow like Jack's beanstalk was counted on to wither court-bill foes. Senator Wheeler's roar faded to a whisper. But it was Robinson who fell.

"A soldier... with face to the battle," Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote of him. Beware, Wheeler cautioned the President, lest you "appear to fight against God."

Roosevelt's right-hand man, New York's Governor Lehman, spoke out against the bill. On the funeral train bearing Robinson to Arkansas, politicians held final huddles. And Vice President Garner drew up a compromise that involved no blood transfusion for the Supreme Court.

"Dear Alben" Barkley became the Senate Democratic leader.

beating Pat Harrison by but one vote.

Palentine's Three Parts

Death, meanwhile, took Guglielmo Marconi, the radio man; George Gershwin, the "Rhapsody in Blue" creator; and Vivian Burnett, the original Little Lord Fauntleroy.

Britain gave the world some thing new to stew about, partition of Palestine. Although unable to live and like it under the old mandate, Arabs and Jews both found fault with the proposed division of the Holy Land into three parts, one for Arabs, one for Jews, and one for the King's nay-e-e.

King George and his queen visited North Ireland, amid more July fireworks. The Free State became "Eire" and re-elected President Eamon de Valera. Egypt's new pharaoh, 17-year-old Farouk I, took office.

Troops, on duty in Cleveland, found a tenth headless body, but no trace of the butcher.

Pete Traxler, escaped convict, had the southwest dizzy until caught.

And sports page news about Ring Crosby's golfing put, John Montague, resulted in his exposure as LaVerne Moore, wanted back in New York state in connection with a roadhouse stickup.

BOYCOTT PLANS AGAINST JAPAN ARE PROGRESSING

December 23, 1937.
Kingston Daily Freeman, 3 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

The Kingston Branch of the American League for Peace and Democracy, at a meeting Tuesday, December 21, determined to emphasize the boycott of Japanese products, in the hope that a concerted effort in this direction will aid in carrying out a quarantine of that aggressor nation.

Along with the opinion of various organizations, and the evidence of many, there are groups and individuals in the city of Kingston who are expressing their active boycott of Japanese products. This boycott should be carried on consistently and wholeheartedly if it is to be successful.

Women's committees will visit the various stores to request that they discontinue the purchase of Japanese goods, in the interests of peace and democracy.

Discussion in the meeting brought certain facts into relief,

Japan depends upon American trade for the prosecution of this war, since so much of the silk used in the manufacture of silk hose comes from Japan. A water-tight boycott of a single item like silk hose, would cripple the Japanese finances, not to mention such articles as toys and Christmas decorations, which are largely made in Japan.

We cannot be a part of such a conspiracy of murder. Labor group leaders, like John L. Lewis, of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, issued a plea for the boycott of Japanese products.

It must not be forgotten that the boycott in no way will injure American industry. The same machines now employed in the manufacture of silk hose may be used to produce hosiery.

It was felt that women should show their abhorrence of Japan's conduct by foregoing the use of silk apparel, to quantities.

Polish-Speaking Dog
Chicago. Policeman Ray Reich has asked his friends to speak a bit of Polish to any lonesome looking Heagle hounds they might run across.

If one should respond "Tak" (Yes) to the question "Czy ty jestes Richard?" (Are you Richard?), it's Reich's hound.

Policeman Reich said the Heagle, lost while hunting, understands only Polish.

HADASSAH

The Kingston branch of Hadassah was founded nearly six years ago, under the leadership of Mrs. Harris Brown. Since that time its presidents have been Mrs. Joseph Forman and Mrs. Benjamin Levey. The present officers of the Kingston branch are, seated, left to right, Mrs. Harold Mandell, president; Mrs. Nathan B. Gross, vice president. Standing, Mrs. Louise M. Ellenbogen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herman Rafalowsky, financial secretary; Mrs. Oscar B. London, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry M. Feldman, recording secretary.

Hadassah is the National Women's Zionist organization, the largest Jewish women's organization in the United States. It was founded in 1912 by its first national president, Miss Henrietta Sord, for the purpose of fostering Zionist ideals in the United States, and improving health conditions in Palestine. Hadassah has fostered health regardless of race or creed. By 1918 the first Zionist Medical Unit was founded in Palestine. More than $2,923,800 has been sent in the last decade by Hadassah.

In 1913, two Jewish nurses were sent to Palestine from the United States to do visiting nursing in Jerusalem. In 1915 the campaign against malaria and trachoma was launched. This effort resulted in the virtual elimination of both these plagues in Palestine. In 1918, Hadassah Training School for Nurses was established. In 1921, the First Infant Welfare Station was started in Palestine. By 1926, there were 15 of these stations. In 1927, the Straus Health Center to house Hadassah public health activities in Jerusalem was begun. In 1928 redemption of 2,500 dunams of land was undertaken. The year 1929 marked the opening of a new health center in Jerusalem, and a new hospital building in Tel Aviv. In 1933, the New Institute of Radiology opened.

Since the Hitler regime in Germany, Hadassah has been instrumental in settling and caring for German Jewish children in Palestine. Its chief project at present is the Hadassah Medical School and Center, connected with the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, near Jerusalem.

Federation Makes Plans Of Interest

At an executive meeting of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs held at the city library recently, plans were made for two interesting meetings in the near future.

The first of these will be on January 15, when the annual Federation luncheon will be held, with Captain Gordon Heriot, famous lecturer and radio commentator as the guest speaker. Mrs. A. DuBois Rose is general chairman.

The second meeting of interest is scheduled for February 2, and is under the sponsorship of the Public Health Department of the Federation. Miss Katherine Murphy, chairman of public health, announced that a forum of health will be conducted on that date with Dr. Broomfield of the State Health Department as the principal speaker. Monthly meetings for all members of the Public Health Department was also proposed by Miss Murphy.

The members of the executive board unanimously voted to make the usual contributions to the Industrial Home, to the Ulster County committee on Public Health, to the Christmas Cheer Fund, and to the Salvation Army for the Christmas Comfort Fund.

BREAK THE HUMDRUM ROUND BY PAUSING EACH DAY FOR POETRY

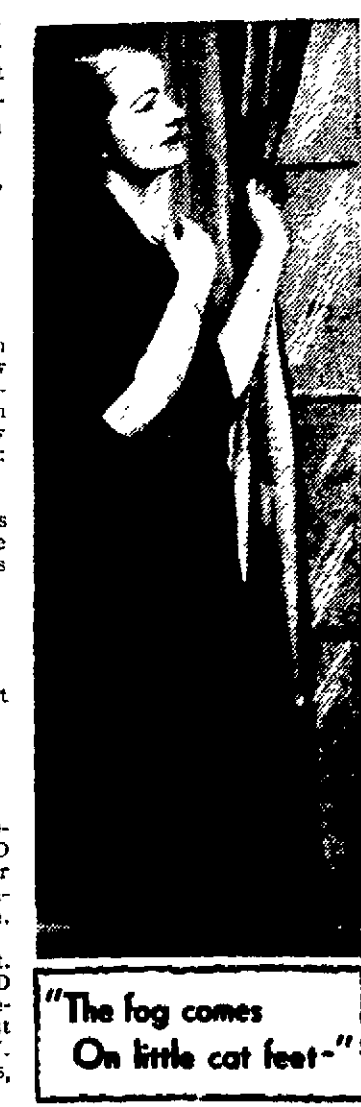

She is never dull. To her even the dark wintry days bring delight. She sees in them the quiet beauty that Carl Sandburg pictured in his haunting little poem "Fog."

Always she remembers, too, these lines by Sara Teasdale: "Life has loveliness to sell—Music like a curve of gold, Scent of pine trees in the rain. Eyes that love you, arms that hold—"

Feed your spirit with such poems—pause each day for a few minutes with the loved poems—and triumph over humdrum tasks. You can say with Henry Wadsworth Longfellow: "Invictus"—in his great poem "Invictus"—"I thank whatever gods may be For my unquenchable soul."

There are fun and tenderness in poetry, too. Who doesn't love the little poem by Robert Louis Stevenson which begins: "I have a little shadow that goes in and out with me, And what can be the use of him is more than I can see. And what courage you get from Rudyard Kipling's "If." "If you can keep your head when all about you Are losing theirs and blaming it on you—"

In our 40-page booklet, POEMS THE WHOLE WORLD LOVES, these and many other favorite poems are given complete. By Longfellow, Tennyson, Poe, Browning, others. Send 15c for our booklet. POEMS THE WHOLE WORLD LOVES, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 15th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

A Day of Heartaches
Just yesterday the floor was strewn with a lot of shabby toys.
You know exactly how it looked, if you have girls—or boys.
But Oh—the toys are gone today! And everything's so neat!
I miss those playthings—and the sound of busy little feet.
I long to see two eyes, which watched me constantly—five years.
I yearn for bubbly laughs—and hope. My eyes are wet with tears.
Have others known such loneliness, or am I just a fool?
Does each wee tot break some one's heart the day it starts to school.
—Lyla Myers

Deceit always holds a hand in the game called life, because we both intentionally and unintentionally not only deceive others but ourselves as well.
Fred—Where did you get all that money?
Sam—Borrowed it from Philip.
Fred—But I thought that he was pretty tight.
Sam—He was.

Clipped from the Springfield News: "Men have always fought best to protect their homes, but the homes weren't the kind you pay rent on."

Man—Do you believe in luck?
Friend—Well, I should say I do. See that fat woman in the big hat and the red dress? Well, I once asked her to be my wife.

Everyone of us is said to be a model, held in awe by someone else, low and humble as we may be.

Theatre Manager—How did you get in here, boy?
Boy—Free. It says on the door: "NO ADMISSION TO CHILDREN."

Teacher—Junior, what is an adult?
Junior—An adult is one that has stopped growing except in the middle.

Read It or Not
The North Pole is shifting at the rate of seven inches a year.

Two elderly members meeting at the club after many years stopped to chat. Said one to the other, who was slightly deaf:
First—I'm sorry to hear of the death of your wife.
Deaf One—What's that?
First—I'm sorry to hear your wife is dead!

Deaf One—Speak up, man. I can't hear you!
First One—I'm sorry you've buried your wife!
Deaf One—But I had to. She died.

Still a husband seldom quits bringing gifts till his wife quills with delight when she gets one.

Mrs. Anderson—Just think, John, dear, some time all our dreams will come true!
Mr. Anderson—Heavens! Not that one about me going down town in my underwear and socks, I hope.

Anyone can be grouchy. It takes neither brains nor ability.

We suppose there are women just like this:
Two girls were discussing men.
Dorothy—Which would you most desire in your husband—brains, wealth or appearance?
Edith—Appearance, and the sooner the better!

Does time make wrong less wrong? Well, suicide isn't considered a sin if you take several years to finish it.

Husband—I have left instructions in my will that I am to be cremated.
Wife—It's just like you to go and leave ashes all over the place.

Hard Work
Shelbyville, Ind.—The burglars who broke into the County Highway garage had quite a time before they collected any dividend on their labor.

They broke three windows before they got in.

They tried to crack the safe, and failed.

They tried to break a candy machine, and failed.

Finally they broke open a desk drawer that held the key to the gasoline pump.

The total loot was 65 gallons of gasoline.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Brian Aherne's theory is that an actor this side of 40 can't contribute much in the way of a performance, because he hasn't learned enough about acting.

Barbara O'Neil (the gracious young mother of "Stella Dallas") offers her own variant on that: "When I'm 30 I'll know enough to be an ingenue."

Twenty-seven now in "Everybody Was Very Nice" she has Wayne Morris as a 25-year-old son. "Three more years," says she, "and I'll be an ingenue. By that time I'll know enough to play one."

Narrow Escape
Fame has its perils along with its rewards. Sidney Blackmer was driving recently to appear in a stage play. On an ice-covered highway near Cambridge, Ohio, his car skidded on the frozen road, did a whirligig, and crashed through a guard railing, its rear end balanced precariously over a 150-foot ravine.

A state highway patrolman stopped his motorcycle and offered aid. Blackmer and the officer were using a long pole as a lever to swing the vehicle back on the pavement again. In the midst of the swing the patrolman dropped the pole in surprise. "Aren't you Sidney Blackmer, the actor?"

Intriguing Names
Michael Whalen has been taking golf lessons at studio expense, for a picture. He has been taught to swing, but he still considers himself a golfing golfer. Just when the club is supposed to strike the ball they cut to a close-up of another player. When the ball is seen again it's zooming down the fairway.

Add I-mean-it handshakes: Bette Davis's...

Nominated for most intriguing home-town names: Fergus Falls, Minn. (Frank Albertson's); Squaw Valley, Calif. (Stuart Erwin's); and Wahoo, Neb. (Darryl Zanuck's).

Find Ancient Letter of John Greenleaf Whittier

Worcester, Mass.—A letter, written by John Greenleaf Whittier, December 10, 1880, was found in the attic of the Classical high school by James Arthur, a student.

The letter, probably removed from the old Worcester high school and in answer to a tribute to Whittier for publication of a poem, "Heroes of Freedom," says:

"Oak Knoll, Danvers, Mass. '12 Mo. 10, 1880.

"Dear Friend,
"The compliment proposed by the Worcester high school is a very great one, but I fear undeserved on my part. I gratefully accept it, however, as applying to my good intentions rather than to actual accomplishment. And I shall be still more grateful if any lessons of loyalty to Freedom, Justice and Humanity are learned by the students of my writings. With thanks and good wishes for the school and its teachers, I am very truly their friend."
"JOHN G. WHITTIER."

Leaders in Music
In music Austrians are leaders. They are musicians and composers of the light music of the school of Vienna which gave the world its romantic operetta, and also of the heavier, soldier music which with Austrians, however, always has the soul and sentiment that have been traditions with them since the time of Franz Schubert.

We've been hearing a lot about "young Republicans" and "young Democrats" but here is a carping critic who says these young partisans are all too old. Just when does a youth come of age politically?

DIGGING IN DEATH'S GARDEN, men search for bodies of victims of the "murder syndicate" which tumbled among its dead Jean de Koven, pretty Brooklyn dancer. She was strangled in the villa of Eugene Weidmann at Versailles, France, and police thought that the garden might yield additional bodies. Weidmann, who confessed killing Miss de Koven, met her in Paris and brought her to the villa. Another woman victim was buried in a nearby cave.

BRIDESMAIDS WERE A-BLOOM at London wedding of Marie McRae Smith and Lieut. T. C. Lloyd. They had a floral head-dress, flowers in their hands and on their gowns.

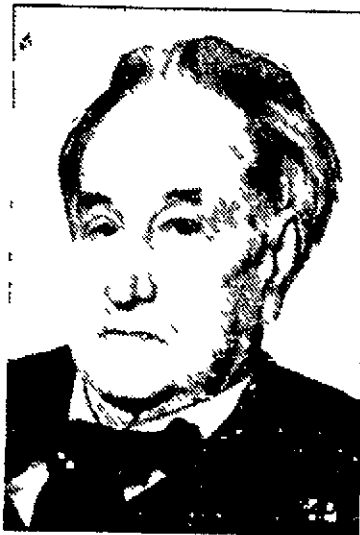

WHAT? ONLY SIX CAPTAINS ON ONE TEAM, that'll represent the east in the East-West football game at San Francisco New Year's day? The six captains of their own college elevens are, left to right: Don Heap, Northwestern; Andy Bershak, North Carolina; Marcel Chesbro, Colgate; Ralph Wolf, Ohio State; John Michelson, Pittsburgh; and Richard Riffe of Albright. This game will vie with the various "bowl" games for the nation's football spotlight New Year's.

SYMPHONY IN SILVER was Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, wife of the motor magnate, seen at a New York dinner with Howard E. Cole. A silvery white satin gown matched her silvery hair. Besides two diamond bracelets, rings, a pearl necklace, she wore a diamond clip with a pear-shaped pearl.

SORROW AND JOY stamp two faces. Mrs. Eliza Pasero weeps for her son, Frank, 11, who was killed in a building collapse in New York. Because she's back in America—a "free country," Martha Dodd smiles her happiness. Miss Dodd's father recently resigned as U. S. ambassador to Germany.

IN FRANCE rumors circulate that Count Rene de St. Quentin (above) may be next French envoy to U. S., succeeding Georges Bonnet.

LOOKS LIKE A HANGOVER, from ancient custom and so it is. Masks are worn in Vienna during holidays to scare away evil spirits. This one attracted a good spirit. The masks were exhibited in museums of the Austrian capital. It would be a rather terrifying spectacle to come face to face with such a mask-wearer at a late night hour.

Picture Puzzle Of 1937

By The AP Feature Service

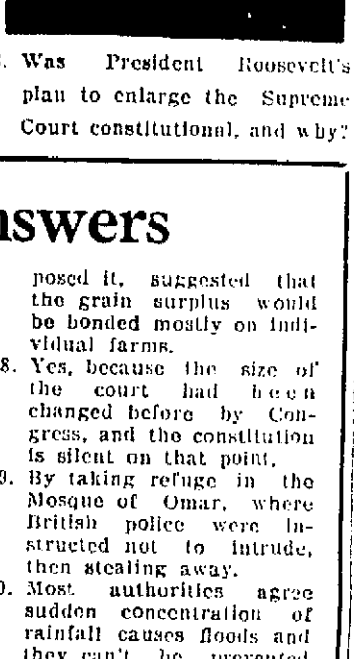

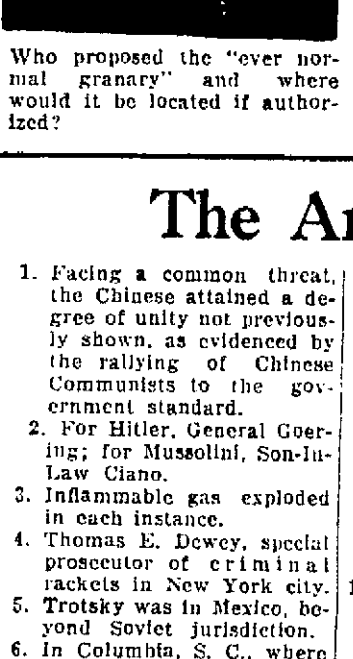

You have read the news of the year. But how much of it do you really know? Count 10 for each question (5 for each part of a two-part question) and take a bow if you score more than 50.

1. What major advantage for the Chinese central government resulted from the Japanese invasion?
2. Who were generally acknowledged as understudies for the world's two most famous fascists?
3. What common element of danger was there in the Hindenburg and Texas school disasters?
4. Who was the man (above) who won fame as 1937's most spectacular racket smasher?

5. Why wasn't the most famous of all Trotskyists executed in Russia's "Trotskyist purge"?
6. Where did the Big Apple dance originate and how did it get its name?
7. Who proposed the "ever normal granary" and where would it be located if authorized?
8. Was President Roosevelt's plan to enlarge the Supreme Court constitutional, and why?

9. How did Jerusalem's Grand Mufti take advantage of British political astuteness to outwit the British?
10. Is there any way to prevent floods like those which ravaged the Ohio and Mississippi valleys last spring?

The Answers

1. Facing a common threat, the Chinese attained a degree of unity not previously shown, as evidenced by the rallying of Chinese Communists to the government standard.
2. For Hitler, General Goering; for Mussolini, Son-Lu-Law Ciano.
3. Inflammable gas exploded in each instance.
4. Thomas E. Dewey, special prosecutor of criminal racketeers in New York City.
5. Trotsky was in Mexico, beyond Soviet jurisdiction.
6. In Columbia, S. C., where college students picked it up from the Big Apple night club, a negro dance hall.
7. Secretary Warrace proposed it, suggested that the grain surplus would be bonded mostly on individual farms.
8. Yes, because the size of the court had been changed before by Congress, and the constitution is silent on that point.
9. By taking refuge in the Mosque of Omar, where British police were instructed not to intrude, then stealing away.
10. Most authorities agree sudden concentration of rainfall causes floods and they can't be prevented entirely, but that damage can be cut by floodways, reforestation, cleared channels, storage reservoirs and levees.

B. Loughran Co. Has Contract for Shadowland Work

The B. Loughran Co., 270 Fair street, has been awarded the contract for installation of plumbing, heating and ventilating systems at Shadowland Theatre, Ellenville, now being repaired and enlarged following the destructive fire some time since.

Interference of union organizers in the progress of the work is said to be responsible for the contract being let out of town parties.

The work will occupy at least three weeks' time. The Loughran Co. started work on installing the heating plant Monday morning.

A new furnace, oil burning boiler will be installed with green-neating units.

The job of rebuilding and re-furnishing the theatre is being shoved as rapidly as possible, considering the restrictions imposed.

The brickwork connected with raising the walls of the building about eight feet has been completed, but plastering has not yet been completed.

The roof has received its wooden sheathing and work of putting on the roof was to have started today had weather permitted.

A Syracuse firm having the roof contract.

The capacity of the theatre will be increased by the addition of a balcony at the rear of the auditorium, which will permit 600 additional seats.

Structural steel for the balcony arrived first of the week.

When completed, Shadowland will be similar in type to Read's theatre, Kingston, before the present extension was added.

FIRST 1938 BABY RECEIVES LAYETTE

The first baby born in either the Kingston Hospital or the Benedictine, following the advent of the New Year, will be the beneficiary of a real "New Deal" through the generosity of the Kramor Young Folks Shop at 323 Wall street.

Kramor's offers, in today's Freeman, a complete 60-piece layette, including garments and accessories, for the first baby born in either hospital in 1938. Attendants at the hospitals have agreed to keep an accurate check in order to insure that the first youngster to greet the New Year receives the prize.

Shriners Plan Big Floor Show

The first of the big dances for 1938 will be the Shriners' Ball on Tuesday evening, January 11 in the municipal auditorium.

This ball has become the established tradition of the winter social season and is eagerly looked forward to by many as an evening of delightful entertainment.

As in the past, ever since the Shriners first originated balls of this type, the entire proceeds will be for the benefit of the Industrial Home.

The Shriners are planning on having a big New York floor show and two orchestras to alternate so that the dancing will be continuous.

The various committees are working hard on their plans to make this affair an outstanding success, both financially and socially.

Old Man Winter Pays First Visit to Kingston Today

When residents awoke this morning it was to find the city enveloped by the first real snow-storm of the winter. Later the snow turned to rain which made the going difficult and soon the telephone in police headquarters began to ring calling attention to the condition of the Wurts street hill which was very slippery.

One huge truck and trailer was caught sideways in the street and during the morning several other trucks were unable to climb the hill.

Superintendent David P. Conway had his trucks and sanding crew out early and sanded Wurts street hill several times.

The Broadway hill also was sanded, as well as other dangerous spots in the city. This work was continued throughout the day by the street department.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Nothing Sacred". A rollicking expose of those metropolitan newspapers that make a doctrine of sensationalism is brought to the Broadway as the special holiday feature at the midtown theatre. It's a wild and reckless tale of a small town girl who comes to the big city, supposedly a victim of radium poisoning. Reporters dog her trail and everything she does is news for she is about to die and her activities rate the headlines no matter what she does. The joker in the pack concerns the fact that the girl has no danger; malady and seeks only a good time on the publically given her case. With Carole Lombard in the starring role and with Frederic March as the ace reporter, this picture is a riot of comedy and excitement. Others in the cast are Frank Fay, Charles Wininger, Walter Connolly, Maxie Rosenbly and Sig Ruman. A United Artists picture directed by William Wellman and filmed in technicolor.

Kingsport: "Sophie Lang Goes West" and "Paid to Dance". A glamorous jewel thief continues her exciting adventures in the first attraction at the Kingsport with Gertrude Michael again starred in the character of Sophie Lang and supported by Robert Cummings, Sandra Storme, Lee Bowman and Buster Crabbe. "Paid to Dance" is an expose of the "taxi" girl racket with Jacqueline Wells and Don Terry.

Orpheum: "Wake Up and Live". Filled with girls, gags and songs, this really brilliant musical novelty is worth seeing because it brings Ben Bernie and Walter Winchell together on the screen after their much publicized radio feud. This is a rather old picture but it still sparkles with clever dialogue and the songs and dance numbers are above average. Alvin Karpis and Patsy Kelly are featured in the large cast.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Stand-in." The inner workings of the motion picture industry are vividly and humorously explained in this grand comedy tale of a studious young man who goes west to take over the affairs of a picture studio. The show is a regular Hollywood parade as it explains the details of production, shows how the life at the movie capital is lived with its hates, its joys and its ambitions. The show stars Leslie Howard and he is perfect in the character of the rather simple young man who enters the picture industry a novice and becomes famous later on. The play also offers such sterling performers as Joan Blondell, Humphrey Bogart, Alan Mowbray, C. Henry Gordon and Jack Carson. Tay Garnett directed.

Kingsport: "Thrill of a Lifetime" and "Fight for Your Lady." Two overage double features are offered at the Kingsport, the first a romantic little number about a boy and a girl with both ambition and talent. This one features Johnny Downs and Eleanor Whitely. "Fight for Your Lady" is the associate feature, a comedy drama with Jack Oakie and Joan Boles starred.

Orpheum: Same.

The rush for a book on "how to influence people" puts us on the defensive. We're influenced too much already.

TO FIGHT GOMEZ' "GOOFY" SUIT

She'll fight Vernon "Lefty" Gomez' divorce suit, which she termed "goofy," said Mrs. Gomez, the former musical comedy star, June O'Dea. She is shown with her Scotch terrier, "Hootmon," leaving Lexington, Mass., for New York, where she was to confer with attorneys.

Kingston: "Thrill of a Lifetime" and "Fight for Your Lady." Two overage double features are offered at the Kingsport, the first a romantic little number about a boy and a girl with both ambition and talent. This one features Johnny Downs and Eleanor Whitely. "Fight for Your Lady" is the associate feature, a comedy drama with Jack Oakie and Joan Boles starred.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT BUSHKILL SCHOOL

West Shokan, Dec. 28.—On Friday evening, December 24, at 8 o'clock, the yearly Christmas entertainment was held at the Bushkill schoolhouse which was filled to capacity. The Christmas spirit prevailed everywhere. In the front of the room was a large cedar Christmas tree trimmed by the children. The room was gayly decorated with bells, red and green crepe paper, red berries, hemlock and posters.

Santa Claus arrived at the close of the program and distributed presents, candy and nuts to the children. Some of the children sang and spoke the pieces for the old gentlemen. Much credit is due both Winifred Smith, teacher, and the children for the success of the entertainment.
